SUBJECT : Oil Deposits Reported Found in Buchach, UkSSR

According to a Soviet citizen, female school teacher from Tarnopol oblast, rich oil deposits have been found West of Buchach, which reach up to the oil fields of Rumania. Final explorations were completed earlier this year and it was rumored that construction would soon begin on one of the greatest refineries in the Ukraine. It is expected, according to the source, that the population of Buchach will increase and that it will become an important industrial city. This information was received from the source by a Project AERODYNAMIC source in late November 1968.
